Target public

Linguistic support courses in French as a Foreign Language (FLE) are intended for foreign degree students on the Pont de Bois Campus and those on degree and masters courses on the Cité Scientifique Campus.

Course objectives

These courses have been designed to meet the linguistic needs of students wishing to hone their French language learning and practice.

The work offered is based on oral and written passive, active and interaction activities, with authentic documents in support, such as televised reports and press articles.

The objective is to improve written and oral expression in a university context, for examinations and also in a more informal context, which will be helpful in the day-to-day life of the foreign student Teaching focuses on linguistic knowledge, such as lexical development, syntax, the use and morphology of tenses and on cultural knowledge by means of intercultural classes and the study of France and its socio-cultural aspects. It is also designed to develop know-how by oral and written passive, active and interaction activities with specific work on argumentation.

At the intermediate and advanced levels, i.e. B2 and C1, students are also offered work on the methodology of university work: the summary, abstract, argued essay, and training in note-taking and presentation.
